LINES ARE DRAWN IN BATTLE FOR LABOR'S HEAD

OFFICERS ELECTED BY CENTRAL LABOR UNION FOR ENSUING YEAR AT MEETING

T. J. Martin Named President of the Organization, succeeding H. O. Cline

NEXT MEETING TO BE HELD 5TH OF JULY

New Officials Installed, Pledge Their Cooperation in the Movement

At adjournment last night the Central Labor Union, voted to hold its next meeting Tuesday evening July 5th, as the regular meeting night fell on Monday the 4th. Preceding some discussion bringing out the fact that the Central Labor Union headquarters were for members of all crafts in the Twin Cities, the newly elected officers for the next six months were installed making short speeches of acceptance. T. J. Martin, as president, succeeding H. O. Cline, pledged his every endeavor toward making organized labor stronger than ever in this section, and asked the loyal support of all concerned. Just before Mr. Martin's speech, D. C. Jones who ran against him, got a standing vote passed, pledging the solid support of every delegate to the new president. S. O. Winton, had previously withdrawn as a candidate for president.

Vice President Babler, who succeeded himself in a race against Henry Shates, said that he would continue to discharge his duties to the best of his ability. H. C. Hutchison who was elected over J. C. Smith as Recording secretary, said that all men made mistakes, and therefore he had made some, but that he expected to limit the number as much as possible, and pledged his earnest efforts. E. M. Johns, Financial secretary, who was elected over H. M. Crow, said that he had hoped for a different result, but that he would abide by the decision of the delegates. O. Ott, was elected to succeed himself without opposition. He pledged more faithful service in view of the honor that had been bestowed upon him. For Sergeant-at-arms W. N. Thomas was elected over Ed Spain and J. C. Laxson. H. M. Crow, was elected door-keeper over Thomas Garrison, H. K. Latsch who like all the other candidates had been nominated at last meeting, having gotten permission to withdraw his name before the balloting began. J. E. Blair and Miss Babler were nominated for Press Reporter. The former candidate was elected.

The race for trustees, was between four candidates, with three to elect, and it required two ballots to determine the result. On the last ballot Mr. Brown of the Boiler Makers, was defeated by C. H. Gray. The other trustees were R. A. Worley and J. H. Nappo said he had rather be a trusted official in the labor movement, than a director in a bank. R. A. Worley, spoke of the value of continued harmony and co-operation in the movement and pledged his best efforts to make the present administration a successful one. Mr. Gray spoke along similar lines, and thanked the delegates for the honor bestowed.

Following their election, retiring President Cline, had the newly elected officers to take oath, pledging among other things that they would buy only union label goods, when it was in their power to do so.

The final report of H. K. Latsch, in behalf of the committee on relief for the miners and others out of employment, was received, which showed that between eight and nine hundred dollars had been collected and paid over by his committee. E. M. Johns, read a fraternal letter from George M. Webb, who now lives in Freestone, Cal., thanking the Central Labor Union for the resolutions recently passed by its delegates, commanding his labors for the cause of labor, while he lived in the Twin Cities. Mr. Webb said that as an evidence of how much he appreciated the kind words of the delegates, that he expected to frame them. He expressed his regard for the warm-hearted people of the South, and invited all union men and women to be sure to see him, if ever they came to California.

TWINS EXPERIENCE NO END OF TROUBLE WITH OFFERINGS OF BLISSETT, LOSE 5-2

Triplet Hurts Holds Hammer Twins to Total of Six Swats

PITCHERS ARE PLENTIFUL
IN THE LOCAL LINE-UP

Carter Pulls Daring Theft on Paths, Taking Three Bases on Single

Inability to connect safely with Blissett's bewildering floater sent the Twins down in defeat Monday, the Triplets winning the first of the series 5 to 2. As a result of the defeat the Twins are runners-up in the A-T loop this morning and the Tri-Cities are leading the league.

While the Twins were experiencing no end of trouble with Blissett's offerings, the Triplets hit Sells when hits were needed. Still with the support of the deserved, Big Bill would have-fared a great deal better.

Because of injuries and the limitations of the new suspension rule now in vogue in the league, the locals were faced with the necessity of playing one twirler on short and another in rights. Verily it looked like Hub Perdue's vols come to town pitchers were so plentiful in yesterday's line up.
Hub, you know has been giving his pitching staff exercise by playing them in infield and outfield positions. Hub's pitchers rarely ever last long enough on the mound
to get a reasonable workout.

CROWD IS SMALL

Yesterday's crowd was small, considering the fact that the leadership of the league hinged upon the result of the encounter, but on the other hand the stands were fairly well filled by brave soul who ran the risk of a downdraft from the overcast heavens.

When Ware called play, there was a sprinkling of drops from the skies, but before the contest ended, the clouds were broken.

However, an itinerary for the annual visitation to all counties which is required by law is now being arranged, and ample notice will be given to all citizens to appear before the commissioners and file any complaints. "The commission will go into every county in Alabama before the end of the year," said President Patterson,
"and will invite all persons who believe changes should be made in regulations for the operation of public utilities to come before it. County officials, newspapers and commercial organizations will be given advance notice in order that complaints may be arranged. In order that the law may be complied with, it is probable the commissioners will begin their visits to the various counties as soon as the itinerary can be arranged and the proper notice given."

The inspection of the property of the Alabama Power Company was made for the verification of the valuation made by engineers of the company.

COMMISSION BACK AFTER INSPECTION OF POWER PLANTS

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 21.—

Members of the public service commission have returned to the capitol
after a trip through North Alabama
during which they made an inspection of the holdings of the Alabama Power Company. No notice of the visit was given in advance and A. G. Patterson, president of the commission, announced on his return that as this was not a regular visitation required by law but was for a specific purpose the commission did not deem it advisable to notify the public.

Both twirlers escaped without injury in the first, but the Triplets drove one run across in the second. Boone, a left handed batter, dumped a short fly to right, which McDuff tried to nab, but the ball escaped him and Boone got two bases. Moseley was playing deep expecting a drive which did not materialize. Riddle skied to Carter, but Flack singled to right and Boone came home. Elmo lined to Russell and Flack was doubled off

The Twins proceeded immediately to get the run back. Carter began the second by grounding out, Blissett to Boone, but Russell drove a hit between Elmo and Riddle and drew up at second. He went to third on a passed ball and Moseley's long sacrifice fly to Riddle scored him. Lau-derman was a strike out victim.

The Tri-Cities scored one each in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.
Boone crossed with their second run
after Russell's error had put him on the paths and Ben's second mis-cues on Elmo's bounces sent him across. Launderman's low throw to first put Blissett on first in the fifth,
from where he scored on Underwood's
single to center.

Three hits in the sixth netted the Triplets another. The Twins scored their final run in the seventh on successive hits by Carter and Russell, Carter scoring from first on Russell's single. It was the prettiest piece of Local Boy and French Bride Visiting Here

When Elliot Pettry, local boy, answered the call of his country
in 1917, he little thought that out of his Great Adventure would come his Greatest Romance.

The distance between Cisco,
Texas across the Atlantic to Nice is a whale of a lot of miles, and under ordinary circumstances might be too great a handicap
for Cupid, but not so in this instance.

From Cisco several days ago,
Mr. Pettry boarded a train and presented a ticket for New York.
A few days before an outbound steamer left France with a pretty young passenger for America.
Almost from the ends of the world,
Cupid was bringing two loving hearts together.

From Nice came Mlle. Emma Marie Rosalie Caissetti, whom Mr.
Pettry met in Nice while on leave from his unit in the American Expeditionary Force. Thousands of miles of land and water had separated them since the armistice was signed and the American doughboy began the long trek homeward, but correspondence had kept alive the spark of love which came into being under the romantic atmosphere of Nice.

Following the marriage ceremony at the little church around the corner in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Pettry came here for a visit of a few days before they leave for Cisco to make their future home.

DEFENSE IS WELL UNDERWAY IN TRIAL OF JOHN BRAND

(International News Service)
JASPER, ALA., June 21.—The defense got well under way today in presenting its side of the case in the trial of John Brand, charged with the murder of Earl Edgill, when court convened and the defense took charge.

Rev. W. R. Martin, a preacher of the vicinity, was the first witness for the defense. He testified as to the character of Brand and said he considered him of good moral character.
Five other character witnesses from Tuscaloosa also were put on the stand and offered similar testimony.

L. L. Bobo, of a private detective agency, was next placed on the stand.

He said he was at Patton Junction when the shooting took place and gave detailed account of the first firing.
He said Edgill was still standing after the first volley had died down.

Thomas Richards, another private detective, took the stand, but the court would not allow the bigger part of his statement to go into the record. Judge Sowell, the jury and others who visited the scene of the shooting yesterday, did not return until afternoon and a recess was taken until 3 o'clock.

Robert Roman was placed on the stand by the defense at this time as the state said it would rest its side of the case. He told of the shooting but the major portion of his testimony was not permitted by the court.

Perhaps the strongest witness the defense has used was Mrs. M. O. McCrary, who followed Roman on the stand.
She stated that Brand was on her front porch during the firing and was not armed.

No statement has yet been made as to whether Brand himself will be put on the stand.

Judge Sowell is not rushing the trial, but has issued a warning that the case must be finished by Saturday as the court will adjourn that day.

has been a great revival of interest in the game in the Twin Cities.

Naval Policy In Making As Bomb Tests Are Begun

ABOARD THE U. S. S. HENDER-SON, off the Virginia Capes, June 21.

It took a small division of the naval seaplanes something less than 16 minutes today to send the ex-German submarine U-17 to join the many vessels which it, as a raider, had sent to Dave Jones's locker during the war.

The bombardment of the ex-German submarine was carried out by the fourth naval division with neatness and dispatch under almost perfect conditions.

(International News Service)

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. HEN-DERSON, OFF THE VIRGINIA
CAPES, June 21.—American naval policy is in the making today as a great air armada sweeps out to sea
from the Virginia capes.

The first of a series of bombing tests, to prove the value of aerial forces in naval warfare, started today. If the air forces demonstrate their effectiveness in sea fighting and their ability to put out of commission
the modern naval fighting ships, then the naval policy of the United States must undergo a change and the great dreadnaughts must fall back in the back stream while the nation develops its air force for protection on land and sea.

Dipping and scurrying over the ocean waters the air scouts began seeking the enemy. Somewhere in the home waters is the "enemy"—the former German submarine U-117. The bombers are but waiting for the scouts to spot the enemy and flash its location. Foremost in the attacking forces are nine great F-5-L type machines, each with a capacity of four bombs, weighing 163 pounds.

To the rear is a division of torpedo planes, with six bombs each.

On board the Henderson, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, members of the naval affairs and appropriations committee and others are watching closely. Brigadier Mitchell, who stirred up the whole fuss as to the value of the airplane pitted against naval fighting crafts, is in command of the army airplanes somewhere in the air or back at the land station giving instructions to anxious pilots.

Tomorrow naval gunners will have their day. Three former submarine are to be targets for the destroyers forces.

FIGHT TO CLOSE UP CAPITAL ON SUNDAY GOES INTO COURTS

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-
Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 21.—Eight persons arrested Sunday by agents of the law enforcement unit on charges of carrying on business in violation of the Sunday laws will be tried before Judge J. Winter Thorngton in the court of common pleas Tuesday. The cases were filed in the court Monday by Chief C. W. Austin, who announced that representatives of his department would appear as witnesses for the state.

The eight arrests were made at five places in Montgomery in line with the campaign for the enforcement of the Sunday law which was started by the law enforcement department Saturday. In several instances a number of charges have been made against the same person and it is probable the trials will continue a greater part of the day if each case is called.

No effort was made to stop the operation of a moving picture show or swimming pool on Sunday. Drug stores are permitted to operate under a decision of the supreme court in a case from Hale county, while there is no state law prohibiting the operation of moving picture shows and swimming pools on the Sabbath.

Announcement was made by the committee which arranged for the Bob Jones revival in Montgomery that it would insist that the moving picture shows comply with the city ordinance which prohibits the showing of any except religious pictures on Sunday, and which prohibits any music not of a religious nature. Religious pictures were not shown Sunday nor was religious music played and Rev. Jones announced from the pulpit of the tabernacle that it is proposed to obtain injunctions preventing the showing of any pictures not of a religious nature.

Federal Aid For Cotton Farmer Plea of Senator

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Financial aid from the federal government for the cotton industry of the South was urged in the senate today by Senator Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina.

Smith declared that the "resources of the federal reserve system should be used for the benefit of distressed agriculture." He pointed to the large gold reserve and demanded:

"While the world is burning up, shall we take pride in the fact that there is more water in the tank than ever before?"

CONDITIONS IN EUROPE ARE DESCRIBED AS HOPEFUL FOR BUSINESS

For the first time since the war, responsible writers on conditions in Europe are sending out dispatches indicating that a lasting peace can now be confidently expected, and that before the year is out America will feel the effects of the new peace policy from a business standpoint. From the day of the killing of the Arch-Duke Ferdinand on June 28th, 1914, to the signing of the Versailles treaty by the beaten Germans on the same day five years later, war reigned supreme in the minds of all Europeans.

The Germans signed the treaty with no intention of keeping it, as her methods of warfare had forced the Allies to demand an almost unpayable sum in indemnity.

The chaotic conditions in Central Europe and in Russia were welcomed by Germany in the hope that some how in the general mixup she would gain some advantage that would enable her to repudiate her war debts. Nearly every small nation of Europe has been at war or near war ever since the Versailles treaty was signed, while the large Russian empire, destroyed by the Bolsheviks for every thing but making war, hung like a black shadow over the entire world. But the Soviet menace remains, now, only in name. Poland broke the power of international Bolshevism, when her armies hurled back the red hordes from before Warsaw. This military victory was the beginning of the end for the Soviets. Bolshevism still exists, but it is a disease, confined strictly to Russia. That country continues to be the pest house of the world but it can no longer pester the rest of the world. When the workless propaganda of the Reds died, there was nothing left for the people of Europe to do but go to work, which indeed is also the case in America. In a word, because the people of Europe have substituted work for war and cooperation for class hatred and intrigue, explains why writers on world conditions hold out a better hope now, than at any time since the outbreak of the war in August 1914.

It was a consequence of this determination to work out their salvation, that led to the Germans paying the first installment on her war debt. With that act, the reparations question is settled, at least for the time being. With its settlement, France is no longer menaced by Germany, and the German threat against British power has failed, finally.

All the threats against orderly processes have failed. The financial ruin in Europe, such as is recorded to have engulfed Europe following the thirty years war, has been averted, granted the intention of Germany to pay her war obligations is carried out. Had she flatly refused to pay up, and Germany had been invaded, it is believed that the whole financial system of Europe and with it that of the world would have been destroyed.

As long as Germany continues to pay, world business is safe, and times will get no worse, the reliable writers declare. Speaking of the great danger through which we have so recently passed, a prominent writer on world conditions says: "In my judgment (speaking of the reparations decision of Germany) this was the worst crisis, economic and industrial reconstruction were in more deadly peril in the last days of April (1921) than at any time since the Bolshevik attack before Warsaw collapsed." It is pointed out, that as six months must elapse before there will be any further demand on Germany, that for the balance of this year at least, international business may proceed undisturbed also, that business will be so thoroughly stabilized by that time, that whatever happens a safe way out will be found.

HUGHES INTERPRETS AMERICAN IDEALS
It may or may not be significant that Secretary of State Hughes has followed the sensational address of Ambassador Harvey in London with a speech to his fellow-alumni of Brown University in Providence which accentuated American devotion to universal liberty. Secretary Hughes did not specifically repudiate Ambassador Harvey's statement that we embarked in the world war for self-protection, but he laid stress on our hatred of tyranny and our loyal desire to preserve the institutions of freedom as the ally of democratic peoples.

We engaged in the war, said Mr. Hughes, with no imperialistic design or cunning purpose. Our men offered their lives because we "loved the institutions of liberty and intended to maintain them, because we hated tyranny and the brutality and ruthlessness which found expression in the worship of force."

Though we are practical, we are a nation of high ideals. We are a mercantile, but not a mercenary nation. We glory in our liberty, our justice and our tolerance, and our fondest hope is that all the people, of all climes, may enjoy the same freedom which affords us as individuals equality of happiness and opportunity. The brave men who fought under the Stars and Stripes on foreign soil were imbued with the noble and unselfish idea that they were living up to the highest American ideals and were preserving liberty for those who had it and gaining it for others who were slaves of autocracy.

Secretary Hughes struck the keynote of American international policy with his assertion that "the only method of diplomacy which we know is that of candid discussion of the merits of problems," and "we have no subtleties, no duplicity of meaning, so soft words to conceal a purpose of self-aggrandizement at others' expense."

These were not Republican or Democratic declarations, but frank interpretations of thoroughly American ideals. They express the opinions which have been typically American since the foundation of the Republic.

QUEER FRIENDS FOR A SENATOR

Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, is in Europe "to study the problems in soviet Russia." Now nobody but a sympathizer, outspoken or hidden, of the Bolsheviks can get into Russia. The Bolsheviks have repeatedly shown that they do not care to have anybody come in who is not a fast friend of their anarchistic doctrine, and who is expected to return home to praise the wisdom of Lenin and Trotsky, and to laud the social system which they say are trying to set up.

The views and convictions of every visitor to Russia are known to the soviet leader. We wonder what assurance they had of Senator France's convictions, since they have permitted him to come in. It is certainly an odd errand for a United States Senator to be on. Such a visit by a Senator apparently in sympathy with the Bolsheviks is calculated to give them the hope that they are going to get that recognition which they so eagerly desire, but we can not help feeling mystified as to the business of a "progressive" United States Senator with the enemies of all established law and order.

Senator France is decidedly "progressive," he is perhaps the most progressive member of the Senate, in that he wants to see more changes in the government than any other Senator. The difficulty with which a real dyed-in-the-wool progressive has to contend is to find a place where to stop; once he gets the progressive impetus, he finds few way stations until he comes to nationalization of industry, which means the abolition of private property, and the anarchy of State socialism. Any Senator who affiliates in friendly fashion with the Bolsheviks must be fully understood by them to believe in the full route to socialism whether he takes it or not. Perhaps Senator France is a political accident in Maryland; at any rate it is something incongruous in a State like Maryland to have a Senator with the convictions of Senator France.

He met Krassin, the trade minister, in London. In reporting the interview, for it is evident that Senator France is going to do some publicity work, which may or may not promote the cause of sovietism, he said that Krassin was grieved because the United States did not like the present government of Russia. Krassin said that even at school he and his fellow students admired America, and looked to it for ideals and yet America refused to have anything to do with it. He could not understand it.

He might find an explanation of it in a rather natural resentment felt in America for the treachery of the Bolsheviks, in selling the allies out to Germany which prolonged the war another year and which directly resulted in the death of tens of thousands of Americans. Perhaps America, as a Democratic country, objects to the governmental policy under which political enemies are put to death and only one class has any right or power. Perhaps America does not like to be referred to, even by Bolsheviks, as a capitalistic and imperialistic country, grinding the souls out of the poor. And then this country we suspect, is not enthusiastic over the original policy of the Bolsheviks to have an international revolution, by which all existing governments were to be overthrown. Moreover, our officials are a bit resentful because the Bolsheviks tried to hire people here for a revolution to duplicate that of Russia.

We have kept the Bolsheviks at arms length; let us continue to do it.—Montgomery Advertiser.

RESPECT FOR THE LAW
Speaking upon this subject, "The Duty of Good Citizens to Promote Respect for the Law," Judge W. J. Martin of the circuit court yesterday told the Rotary club of an unfailing rule by which all bolshevism and other "isms" will be discouraged to the point where they will cease to be effective in the United States.

Let the good citizens of this country, said Judge Martin, promulgate the propaganda that there must be in all citizens, young and old, a wholesome respect for law and for the authorities of the law, and not only will efforts to tear down this government from within fail, but such also will be the fate of any attempt to begin such efforts.

Judge Martin pointed out the insidious danger of departing, just a little at a time, from a strict observance of the law. Gradually the little law breaker becomes the big one who passes between the penitentiary doors. There can be no compromising with the law. As American citizens we make our own laws through the election of our legislators, and as American citizens we enforce our own laws through the election of our executive officials. The man who violates these laws is going against majority rule and against good, American government.

Incidentally, Judge Martin, in his speech referred to one of the unfortunate conditions which exist in connection with Alabama's penal system. He spoke of the wife and children, the dependents of convicted men, who, while the husband and father serves his sentence, often face want and privation. He suggested that some legislative relief should be given whereby a part of the earnings of state convicts should be devoted to the support of his dependents.—Gadsden Journal.

"Are newspapers truthful?" reads a headline. We are sure they are—that is, it depends very much upon the source of their information. Newspapers are often imposed upon and in consequence their statements are discredited accordingly.—Montgomery Times.

Since the age of miracles has passed, hard work seems to be the next best thing in sight.

The road to normalcy is strewn with Tax.

Protection for industry and real hustle are quite different. Give us more industry and it will protect itself.

WEOW! MEOW! MEOW!

I was down in the mouth,
And was blue as could be;
All out of sorts and Felt like bumping a tree.

Tried all the Doctors,
And stayed full of dope;
Finally they told me that
There wasn't any hope.

Unless I quit worrying,
And threw business aside,
Absorb humor and merriment
And stretch out my hide.

That my race would soon be over,
And the world be rid of one;
If I didn't take to frolicking
Get out and have some fun.

By chance I began reading,
The good old Daily;
Ever long I was feeling better.
And acting rather gaily.

I ran across a column,
They call the "Office Cat,"
That hands them out red hot Right off the bat.

I laughed and I laughed
Till I thought I would bust;
And then I laughed some more
And I know that I Must.

Have excited all the neighbors,
For out of every door;
They came running in to see
If I was going to laugh some more.

I have gained twenty pounds
Lost my grouch and the blues
Feeling younger every day,
Even shine my shoes.

From now on the Doctors,
Can all go to seat;
I will take my medicine
Through the Daily "Office Cat."

AMERICAN MUSEUM
OF NATURAL HISTORY

THE cornerstone of the home of this wonderful collection in Manhattan Square, New York City, which contains some ten acres of floor space, was laid by President Grant in 1877.

The purpose of this great "curiosity shop" is to procure actual specimens upon which accurate knowledge of the animals, birds, minerals and other wonders of the world are based and exhibit them for the edification of the public.

A few of the displays which attract particular attention, the like of which probably does not exist elsewhere, are: the largest known meteorite, brought from Greenland and weighing 36 tons; an Indian dugout 84 1/2 feet long, made from a single tree; a section of a California tree, 16 feet in diameter and more than 1,300 years old; a life-size model of a 79 foot whale, probably the largest animal that ever lived and which, probably weighed 70 tons; mounted specimens of more different kinds of birds than you imagine the world contains; a collection of implements used by prehistoric man, representing a period of approximately 250,000 years; exhibits of fishes, including some so primitive as to be scaleless; an exhibit of snakes that gives you the creeps; an intensely interesting exhibit showing how disease is transmitted by insects, and a library of some 70,000 volumes on natural history, travel and anthropology.

By JONATHAN BRACE
XLI.—IDAHO

THE year 1880 saw the stars in our flag increase from thirty-eight to forty-two, for four states were added to the Union in that year. In 1890 two more states were admitted, the first of which was Idaho, so that during these two years the manufacturer must have been kept busy turning out new flags with the proper number of stars.

Idaho is very mountainous and the name is derived from the Shoshone Indian word meaning "gem of mountains."

The first white explorers were undoubtedly Lewis and Clark on their memorable trip in 1804-5.

Idaho was a part of Oregon territory, which was jointly occupied by British and Americans until the Treaty of 1846 definitely turned over to the United States the country south of the 49th parallel. In 1863 Idaho was organized as a territory, with an area three times the size of the present state, as it included Montana and part of Wyoming. The next year Montana was set off for a territory by itself, and in 1888 Wyoming was organized so that in 1890 when Idaho was admitted as the forty-third state of the Union, its area was reduced to 83,888 square miles. Even so it ranks as the eleventh state in size.

The rapid settlement of Idaho was due to the discovery of gold, the same cause which so rapidly built up the adjacent states. It was in 1882 that gold was found at Coeur d'Alene in the northern part of the state, and miners immediately flocked to the state in great numbers.

There was serious labor trouble in the Coeur d'Alene section in 1892 and again in 1899, when martial law was established until peace between the miners and mine owners was effected.

Idaho is fifth from the end in the list of states according to population, and accordingly has but four presidential electors. But the state is developing rapidly.

to Hunt for Ships(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Mariners on the seven seas of the world will be asked to keep an eye open for traces of the American cargo steamer Hewitt and two other American freighters, whose mysterious disappearance while off the American coast several months ago, is as complete as if the sea had opened up an swallowed them.

American consuls will bring the matter to the attention of foreign authorities all over the world in hopes that some clue may be picked up.

THE PYRAMIDS

A GROUP of mounds, about seventy in number, located southwestern Illinois, not a great distance from St. Louis, comprise what is said to be the largest remaining work of the aborigines north of Old Mexico. Whence came these Mound Builders, how long they remained and whether they went, history seems not to record. Scientists have failed to establish the definite period of time which their construction represents. That these monuments of prehistoric man directly connect us with a vanished people of whose history we know little or nothing there is, of course, no question. It is thought by some that the so-called missions of California, many of which are falling into decay, are as infants compared with these ancient piles of earth which stand in mute evidence of the fact that, years before modern civilization, this section was the seat of an empire of a most primitive race.

The greatest of these mounds is known, locally, as Monk's mound (Legend has it that a colony of Trappist monks once lived upon it). It is more than 100 feet high, covers sixteen acres and, it is believed, must have required 3,000 men two years to build.

The Story of
Our StatesBy JONATHAN BRACE
XXII.—ALABAMA

The history of Alabama is credited to De Soto in 1540. The English also laid claim to this territory and included it in the grant to North Carolina. But it was the French who first settled here, erecting in 1702 Fort St. Louis on Mobile Bay and founding the town of Mobile nine years later. Mobile was for many years the capital of Louisiana. France in 1763 ceded the territory east of the Mississippi to England and the northern part of the present State of Alabama was joined to the Illinois territory. The southern portion was known as West Florida. Serious conflict with the Indians was kept up for many years. In fact, even as late as 1812, there was an uprising of the Creek which resulted in terrible atrocities and massacres.

During the Revolution West Florida remained loyal to England, but was seized by Spain only to be turned over to the United States in 1813. This Mobile section was then added to the northern district and the State of Alabama was formed and became the twenty-second state of the Union in 1819.

The meaning of the name Alabama is variously interpreted. It was the name of an Indian tribe which inhabited this territory at the time of De Soto's first visit. After this tribe the river was named and the state was called Alabama after the river. The Indian word was supposed to mean "Here we rest" and these words are used on the state's coat of arms, but this interpretation is doubtful. Alabama is sometimes called the Plantation State. Its area is 51,908 square miles. © by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Laughing in
His Sleeve

I was told nothing but an operation would help my stomach trouble, and was getting ready for the operation when a friends advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy. The first dose helped me. I am now as well as ever in my life, and am laughing up my sleeve at the doctors. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convive or money refunded. For sale by all druggists—Advt.

AFTER a baking falls—it becomes tough or soggy,
you can't make it tender and tempting. It can't be "fixed."
It is liked spilled milk—
"wasted."

But, there is a way to prevent this waste—every woman should use it because a bake day every day is a real loss.

Calumet Baking Powder positively prevents failure. It has been doing it for millions of housewives for a third of a century.

The biggest selling Baking Powder in the world. Produced in the largest, most modern, sanitary Baking Powder Factories. Possesses only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities. Most economical in cost and use. You save when you buy it. You save when you use it. The body needs gluten. Be sure you get it. Use only plain wheat flour and pure baking powder. Mix them yourself. No ready prepared substitute or mixture (self-rising flour) will answer the purpose.

AMERICAN CAMPANILE
THE records of past ages are authority for the fact that campaniles or bell towers became very common in Italy and especially in Rome between the eighth and eleventh centuries. Almost everybody has at some time seen a picture of that famous old one of old St. Mark's Church in Venice.

On the other hand, campaniles are rarely seen in the United States nowadays and yet California boasts what is perhaps the most splendid example of a bell tower on the western hemisphere.

It is one of the most-pleasing and graceful architectural structures one can hope to look upon and is located in the grounds of the University of California, at Berkeley. The gift of a Mrs. Sater, it cost about $200,000, is 302 feet high, approximately 36 feet square and is constructed of California granite, with the exception of the pyramidally-shaped top-piece which is of white marble.

Within the tower is an immense clock and a chime of twelve beautifully-toned bells. These precious bells were safely transported through the submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic, on their journey from the old world, during the earlier days of the world war.

These bells, also the gift of Mrs. Sater, range in weight from 340 to 4,118 pounds. The tinner or largest bell carries the following inscription, written especially for the purpose by Professor Flagg of the university:

"We ring, we chime, we toll;
Lend ye the silent part,
Some answer in the heart,
Some echo in the soul."

Never read by firelight; the dancing flames are most injurious to the sight.

Remedy Given to Exterminate Pests

(Special to The Daily.)

AUBURN, ALA., June 21.—Those sweet potato insects which have recently appeared in Calhoun, Clay, Walker and Sumter Counties are Tortoise Beetles, according to Dr. W. E. Hinds, Entomologist for the Alabama Extension Service. They have been known in Alabama for several years and the outbreak in the above counties does not mean the introduction of any new insect pest.

Answering requests from the country as to how they may be controlled, Dr. Hinds recommends that a mixture composed of 1 pound of calcium arsenite, 2 pounds of fresh slaked lime with 50 gallons of water be used. Perhaps a more simple control method is to apply calcium arsenite alone by means of a dust gun which forces the poison in contact with all parts of the sweet potato leaves thereby placing it where it will be eaten by the beetles no matter where they attack which is usually on the underside of the leaves.

Dr. Hinds is of the opinion that these insects are liable to appear in any county in the state and that since their control is comparatively simple farmers should not only dust or spray to kill the first generation but should be prepared and dust again as soon as a second or third generation appears.

RATE RAISE UP

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 21.—(Special)—The petition of Lee C. Bradley, receiver of the Birmingham Railway, Light and Power Company, for permission to increase the street car fare in Birmingham, from seven cents to eight cents and to charge two cents for a transfer probably will be heard by the public service commission in Birmingham instead of Montgomery.

The speaker announced that plans are well underway for establishing a paper mill costing a million and a half dollars near Birmingham.

Such a mill, he said, will mean not only an outright saving in the cost of spruce materials, but would entail a saving of 65 cents per hundred pounds freight.

The publishers discussed numerous technical problems today. Officers will be elected Wednesday morning.

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., June 21.—Roge W. Babson, widely known statistician of Boston, will deliver the principal address of the day at the 5th annual convention of Kiwanis clubs now in session here, this afternoon when he will discuss the business outlook. Harry F. Atwood, of Chicago, will also speak this afternoon on the "Constitution Our Safeguard."

The morning session of this, the first business day, was taken up with addresses of welcome to the delegates by Mayor William Fitzgerald and Governor Harry L. Davis.

Among the resolutions recommended for adoption today are propositions providing for a budget system for the United States and the adoption of improved business methods by the Federal government.

Two Men Sought
in Street Murder

BIRMINGHAM, June 21.—Police and detectives today are searching the city for two men who they believe shot and killed O. L. Shafer, near the downtown section of this city shortly before midnight last night.

Suicide at first was given as the cause of death, but officers, acting upon statements by parties residing in the neighborhood, that two men were seen running away from the scene, are searching for these.

Yeast Gives New Strength to Weak People

Everybody is talking about yeast and of the apparent miracles it is performing in bringing new strength and health to weak run-down men and women.

The reason is that yeast contains vital substances known as vitamins, which we do not get in most of our foods. These vitamins are absolutely necessary to the system, and it is because people do not get enough of them that they become thin, pale, weak and old before their time.

Ordinary yeast cakes, however, contain only about 20 per cent real yeast. The most efficient form of yeast is brewer's yeast, highly concentrated. This is the basis of the great new tonic, Ironized Yeast, which is bringing almost incredible results everywhere, especially in treating weakness, thinness, and general run-down condition. Contains iron as well as vitamins and being in tablet form is pleasant to take.

The Story of
Our StatesBy JONATHAN BRACE
II.—PENNSYLVANIA

THE second state to adopt the Constitution was Pennsylvania. Its area of 45,126 square miles is larger than the combined New England states, except Maine, with New Jersey thrown in for measure.

Its name means "Penn's Woodland" and was so named by King Charles II, who granted this territory to the Quaker, William Penn, and named it in commemoration of Penn's father, who had been a distinguished admiral and on terms of peculiar friendship and intimacy with the royal family. This grant was made in lieu of $16,000, which the king owed Admiral Penn. On this basis it originally cost about $2 a square mile.

Pennsylvania has assumed such an important place among the states that it is often called the Keystone state. This term was probably derived originally because her name was carved on the keystone of the bridge over Rock creek, between Washington and Georgetown. Later on it was applied to account of the great importance of the state in national elections. Its delegation to congress totals 38, second only in size to that from New York, and Pennsylvania accordingly has 38 presidential electors.

William Penn first came over to America in 1682. The following year he laid out the city of Philadelphia, or "Brotherly Love," which was named after a biblical city in Asia Minor.

Pennsylvania was the only colony without a seacoast. Penn obtained from the duke of York the control of Delaware, and until the Revolution these two provinces were under the same proprietary government. Quarrels with Maryland over boundaries caused a formal survey to be made by two surveyors, Mason and Dixon, and it was this which became famous during the Civil war as the Mason and Dixon line, the dividing line between the slave and the free states.

Case

It Proves That There's A Way Out for Many Suffering Albany Folks. Just another report of a case in Albany. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Albany with man's Kidney Pills.

J. W. Ezell, 1301 Fourth Avenue, says: "My kidneys became affected, I believe, from cold and sharp pains often took me in the small of my back. When I stooped or lifted anything, I could get sudden twinges through my kidneys at night. Mornings I arose refreshed and was usually tired. I had headaches, dizzy spells and spots continually passed before my eyes. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box and used them as directed. Two boxes entirely cured me."

The above statement was given April 28, 1911, and on February 28, 1918, Mr. Ezell said: "I have had no return of kidney trouble since taking Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and I cheerfully confirm the statement I gave at that time."

NORMA TALMADGE
HER OWN RIVAL IN
"SHE LOVES AND LIES"

(Princess Today.)

Norma Talmadge, famed beauty of the screen, is coming to the Princess theatre today in her latest select special, "She Loves and Lies," a comedy drama founded on Wilkie Collins' story of the same name.

In this play, Miss Talmadge portrays two sisters in a financial triangle, being her own rival for the affections of her husband. Miss Talmadge as Marie Callender finds herself wed to a certain Mr. Lismore, whom she marries in a philanthropic mood, to help him tide over some financial worries. It is purely a marriage of convenience, but as time passes Marie finds the "marriage of convenience" extremely dull; whereupon she searches for a method of winning her husband's love. The plan she eventually hits upon is unique to say the least. Realizing that she cannot flirt with him at home under the circumstances, she goes elsewhere, becomes someone else, and sets out to win him.

MOULTON, June 21.—(Special.)

J. B. Gibbons, for the past two years principal of the Clay County High School, at Ashland, has accepted the principalship of the Lawrence County High School for the high school year beginning July 1, 1921. Mr. Gibbons comes recommended highly to the County Board of Education and it is predicted that the school will maintain under his direction the high standard it has since its organization in 1908. Since Mr. Gibbons is at present an instructor in the summer school at the State Normal at Jacksonville, he will not be able to enter fully upon his duties before the third week or later in July.

Many friends of the assistants for the past year requested that they be retained if it meets the approval of the new head of the school. The year closed has been one of the best in the history of the institution as to the quality of instruction by all the teachers. Especially noteworthy has been the daily physical instruction and health lessons given by the first assistant, John F. Stevenson, who is for the summer at the Jacksonville Normal.

The County Board of Education has been made a great effort to see that the school will not be so financially handicapped as in the past and in addition to the promise of support from that source several hundred dollars have been subscribed by those locally interested in the work.

A salary schedule for the teachers of the Lawrence County schools has been worked out and efforts are being made to secure teachers as early as possible for the 1921-1922 sessions. It appears that funds will not permit terms longer than five months much as longer sessions are needed. It is difficult, too, to arrange a schedule for the salaries that will secure the services of the best trained teachers. According to the State ranking of certificates there are six classes with several sub-classes of certificates. These certificates considered with the experience determine the salary allowed. Beginners as assistants are to receive from $50 to $90 according to the rank of certificate held; those with experience of two or three years, $55 to $95; those with experience of four or five years, $60 to $95; and those with above six years experience $65 to $105. To this for those having charge of a one room school may be added $5 the month and for a two or a three room school, $10 the month. The county board of education expects again to employ an Elementary School Supervisor.

Lawrence county, always noted for its summer picnics, is to see the opening of the season by the one announced for Mount Hope to be held on Saturday, July 2. The picnics at that place have become noted throughout the county and have been held for years on or near the Fourth of July. It is to this that former citizens of the county come from out of the county and state; on this occasion, too, that usually enables the trustees to secure from sales of soft drinks and cream, or barbecued meats, several hundred dollars to be applied to the maintenance of their school. The Russellville Concert Band is expected to furnish the music for the occasion and noted speakers are to make addresses.

Within the past ten days three weddings of more than mere local interest have occurred in Moulton or the county. That of Miss Lucile Sherrill to Dr. J. H. Smith, of Beech Grove Tennessee, is of direct interest to the people of Moulton since Miss Sherrill had lived here for several years and here completed her high school course before taking the training for nurse in Nashville a course recently completed and during the taking of which she met the popular young doctor who has now become her husband. Dr. and Mrs. Smith are spending a few days in Moulton with relatives and friends before going to their new home in Tennessee.

To the teachers of the county the wedding of Miss Jennie B. Madley, of Mountain Home School, and Walter T. Porter is of interest since Miss Madley has been for several sessions one of the best teachers in the county. Mr. Porter formerly was a teacher in the county but is now connected with the government railway service and the two will make their home in Cincinnati.

The third wedding of interest to many was that of Miss Agatha Alexander to Bert Stewart, each residing near Caddo in the northeast of the county. Each has been connected with the teaching force of the county and of Morgan county and Mr. Stewart is especially well known here where he spent his high school days. Since leaving high school he has spent some time in both the State Normal at Florence and the State University.

The W. O. W. have announced the decoration of deceased sovereigns at Red Hill, six or seven miles east of Moulton, Sunday, June 19 and on the afternoon of the same day in the cemetery at Moulton. All members are being urged to take part in the exercises which are always well attended.

Mr. Will Moles and family and Allen Farley and family spent a day or two the middle of the week fishing and camping out on Big Nance.

W. Emmett Perry, recent law school graduate at the University, has been spending the week over at Florence to attend the noted Seay murder trial.

The Moulton B. Y. P. U. announces an early visit to their meetings a degation from the east Albany Baptist congregation.

Judge J. C. Forney, Eugene Downing, and others were on business in Albany-Decatur Thursday.

Judge W. P. Chitwood was buried at the Moulton cemetery yesterday afternoon. His death occurred early Sunday morning after many months of confinement at the home of his niece, Mrs. A. S. Byars. Judge Chitwood was born Sept. 3, 1835 in Tennessee but came to Lawrence County with his father when quite small. He was in his eighty-sixth year and had practiced law for many years in Moulton and also at Tuscaloosa where he was appointed at some time in the early 1860's to an unexpired term for the Lauderdale County Circuit judgeship.

He leaves three sons and one daughter who, as does one of the sons, is in Texas. One of the sons lives in Buffalo, N. Y., and a granddaughter in Tuscaloosa. In addition to the foregoing he leaves a brother and sister at this place, J. C. Chitwood and Miss Camilla Chitwood. He was a member of the Baptist church and services were held at the cemetery by the pastor U. G. Reed of the local congregation.

For several years past he has been in the home of his niece who occupies the old Judge Peters' home.

It appears that the Lawrence county farmer has not only the drought to threaten his cotton crop but a real live enemy in the form of the boll weevil which has made considerable ravages in the past two years at various points. Although cotton is barely beginning to set squares numerous weevils are found in the fields puncturing the tiny forms.

A very important business meeting of the Lawrence county Board of Revenue was held Monday dealing with the road proposition.

Here's why CAMELS are
the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.
